TRADEMARK LAWS & IT'S CHANGING DIMENSION

DATE: 25.10.2021

THE OBJECTIVE OF SEMINAR

Trademark Objective and Infringement A trademark distinguishes a party's products or services, including a logo, phrase, design, word, or combination of features. A trademark is used to set their products or services apart from others. A trademark can nearly have any structure as long as it makes it simple for customers to associate it with a particular service or good

LEARNING OUTCOMES

A Trademark protects brand names and logos used on goods and services. Trademarks are intellectual property rights that are protected by law. Trademarks are different from patents, which protect inventions, and copyrights, which protect an original work of authorship.

ABOUT INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS CELL

It is necessary to protect the Intellectual property in order to enable organizations to earn recognition or financial benefits. Governments of various countries protect the innovative ideas of the inventors through Intellectual Property Rights (IPR). The rationale for this IPR lies in the need to create awareness about the importance of IPRs as a marketable financial asset and economic tool among the researchers, faculty and students of the College. Intellectual property Rights: means the rights derived from the IP e.g. Patents, registered designs, copyright etc.

Objectives:

Trademark Objective and Infringement A trademark distinguishes a party's products or services, including a logo, phrase, design, word, or combination of features. A trademark is used to set their products or services apart from others. A trademark can nearly have any structure as long as it makes it simple for customers to associate it with a particular service or good. Famous trademarks include the Coca-Cola bottle design, the Nike "swoosh," the McDonald's "golden arches," and the NBC three-toned chime "G E C."

Learning outcomes:

A Trademark protects brand names and logos used on goods and services. Trademarks are intellectual property rights that are protected by law. Trademarks are different from patents, which protect inventions, and copyrights, which protect an original work of authorship.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND PUBLIC POLICY ISSUES

DATE: 10.03.2022

THE OBJECTIVE OF SEMINAR

The purpose of the intellectual property policy is to foster the creation and dissemination of knowledge and to provide certainty in individual and institutional rights associated with ownership and the distribution of benefits that may originate from the formation of intellectual property.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Intellectual property rights (IPR) have been defined as ideas, inventions, and creative expressions based on which there is a public willingness to bestow the status of property. IPR provide certain exclusive rights to the inventors or creators of that property, in order to enable them to reap commercial benefits from their creative efforts or reputation.

THE OBJECTIVE OF SEMINAR

The main objective of this course is to introduce the basic concepts in research methodology in Social science. This course addresses the issues inherent in selecting a research problem and discuss the techniques and tools to be employed in completing a research project.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Demonstrate the ability to choose methods appropriate to research aims and objectives.
- Understand the limitations of particular research methods.
- Develop skills in qualitative and quantitative data analysis and presentation.
- Develop advanced critical thinking skills.

ABOUT RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CELL

R&D Cell encourage & faculties to conceive ideas through enhanced industry-academia interactions and prepare research proposals for funding from various agencies & it organizes events like capacity-building programs and specific research theme-based workshops and Research Internships that will motivate the students, scholars, and faculties to participate actively in the process of ideation and innovative research in emerging areas. It combined ventures for joint research activities to enhance the exchange between students, scholars, and faculty.
